

Metamorphosis

Courage and change

NSU Center for Applied Humanities
5th Annual Crossroads Humanities Student Conference
Saturday, March 25, 2023
9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Greek philosopher Heraclitus said that the only constant in life is change, but this constancy does not necessarily mean a peaceful process. Undergoing metamorphosis can be both joyful and regenerative, but also fraught with fracture and trauma. This year's Crossroads will consider how the humanities both inspire and reflect transformative change. In what ways do the arts, literature, history, film, religion, and philosophy provide the building blocks for human growth and development? How are the humanities involved in the courage to make change possible?

Undergraduate and graduate students from all academic institutions are invited to present and attend. Please submit an abstract of 150 words or fewer and a one-paragraph bio. to Dr. Marlisa Santos at humanities@nova.edu no later than Friday, February 3rd, 2023.

Possible topics include, but are not limited to:
Digital humanities, Trauma studies, Medical humanities, (Trans)formation, World mythology and folklore, Religious ritual/belief, Environmental humanities/climate change, Social reform, Racial justice, Revolution, Political discourse, Memoir/autobiography/documentary.

Registration Fee (lunch will be provided):
